

Never Without You

ATB

When I close my eyes
Will I know you're there?
Will it tear me down
When you've gone away?
Out of all the things
That I felt that day
I never knew this
Never without you

From where I lay you would always be
The better part of me
Stolen pieces that I'm hid underneath
Through years I'd hang on a word for you
While you are so carefully disguised
We are hoping
We would all but die and start anew

Hidden out of sight you can hear them
Call your name out loud
Running out of time as they count it
All the way down
I'm headed for the night
It's another time of day down here
You open your eyes
I'll still be here

In the darkest nights
You were haunting me
Like a moon kept tide
You were calmly pacing
In and out of view
And heaven knows
I've tried to think
How lonely life would be
Here without you

From where I lay you would always be
The better part of me
Stolen pieces that I'm hid underneath
Through years I'd hang on a word for you
While you are so carefully disguised
We are hoping
We would all but die and start anew

Hidden out of sight
You can hear them
Call your name out loud
Running out of time
As they count it all the way down
I'm headed for the night
You open your eyes
I'll still be here

You open your eyes I'll still be here
