

No One

Athenaeum

You're telling me things
I already know
You take me places
I never would go
And you act so freely
Like the world was your own
You can do anything you want
But you don't leave me alone
And no one feels
And no one feels like we do
When we will learn
That nothing is real
And everything's changing
Except what we feel
And out on your doorstep I was all butterflies
Cause all of the moonlight in the sky
Was no match for your eyes
And no one feels
And no one feels like we do
You're telling me things
I don't want to hear
But you are my answer
When nothing is clear
And the music played softly
As you whispered a word
I had to sigh and catch my breath
From what I had heard
And no one feels
And no one feels like we do
