

I'm Going To Forget

Attack In Black

Sooner or later i'm going to forget leaving without a trace when everything is how it should be i'm going to hide my face she thinks she knows me like no other but there are some things i have said that come from a place that traces its tracks and now i'm taking them back

i'm going to forget
i'm going to forget
i'm going to forget
i'm going to forget

and now i can't help but feel this way can't keep my mind from rolling i know my thoughts are not with you they're wherever i am going so please, oh please send a warning for me to anyone you care for i come with the dust and go with the wind

never to be back again
