

Break My Addiction

Attila

Fuck. This.

My mind is sick and I can't

Think. Straight.

Break my addiction

Oh

I'm being dragged to the depths of hell

Feels like there's no tomorrow any second might be my last

I never thought this could happen to me

I guess I'm not invincible, no one is invincible

Fuck

When will it end when will it end

It feels like time is standing still I don't know where to begin

I want out

My mind is painting me a picture of a dark and hopeless future
but I know it's not real

It was my vice

I didn't know at the time but it took over mind and put my whole life in rewind and every time I tried couldn't escape my mind

I just went back in line couldn't keep from falling behind

Fuck. This.

My mind is sick and I can't

Think. Straight.

Break my addiction

Falling, falling, faster than I could come back

I've got to break free

Fuck

When will it end when will it end

It feels like time is standing still I don't know where to begin

I want out

My mind is painting me a picture of a dark and hopeless future
but I know it's not real

Hey, everybody listen to me, no matter what you're dealing with I promise that you'll be free

Go

Lets set the story straight

Nothing is as perfect as you think it is and every single person has their problems that they're dealing with Everyone you idolize is fake behind those shining eyes and everyone has battles if you know it or not The world will never be perfect we'll have addiction

Depression, we've got to live and learn from our mistakes and that's our whole lesson - oh!

It was my vice

I didn't know at the time but it took over mind and put my whole life in rewind and every time I tried couldn't escape my mind

I just went back in line couldn't keep from falling behind
