Don't Give Up (THiiS Goes Out...)

Auburn

This goes out to my home girls
This goes out to my homies

Baby girl, I know that you've been off track
U feel like taking 1 step forward's taking 2 back
No matter how hard u try, things always go bad
Thought of a better life, you'll never know that
You smile on the out but inside you hurt
You say that you're fine but you feel unsure
Try to replace the pain but saying false words
You see that girl in the mirror but don't know her

But the tears can't wash away
All the fears you haven't faced
Baby girl, don't lose your faith
Cause the storm doesn't last always

This goes out to my home girls
Know it's hard to make it in this world
I know you try and it feels like
Nothing goes right but it'll be alright
This goes out to my homies
Trying to survive out in these streets
I know it's tough, forced to grow up
Life is messed up but keep your head up

Baby boy, the streets is all that you know
You dream of a higher place, instead u stay low
& when u go home, you're mad and you're all alone
Wanna call out to your boys but they're all gone
You tell yourself that you don't need
No one else, but if only
You will try, won't get lonely
Won't have to hide what you're feeling

But the tears can't wash away
All the fears you haven't faced
Baby boy, don't lose your faith
Cause the storm doesn't last always

This goes out to my homies
Trying to survive out in these streets
I know it's tough, forced to grow up
Life is messed up but keep your head up
This goes out to my home girls
Know it's hard to make it in this world
I know you try and it feels like
Nothing goes right but it'll be alright

Baby girl, keep your head up
Promise me you'll never give up
Baby boy, keep your head up
Promise me you'll never give up

This goes out to my home girls
Know it's hard to make it in this world
I know you try and it feels like

Nothing goes right but it'll be alright
This goes out to my homies
Trying to survive out in these streets
I know it's tough, forced to grow up
Life is messed up but keep your head up

Nothing goes right but it'll be alright
This goes out to my homies
Trying to survive out in these streets
I know it's tough, forced to grow up
Life is messed up but keep your head up
