On a cold wet afternoon no room for love and emptiness by a freeway i confess i was lost in the pages of a book full of death reading how we'll die alone and if a god will lay to rest anywhere we want to go in your house i long to be room by room patiently i'll wait for you there like a stone i'll wait for you there alone

And on my death bed
i will prey
to the gods and the angels like a pagan
to anyone who will take me to heaven to a place
i would recall
i was there so long ago
the sky was bruised
the world was black
and there you led me on

In your house
i long to be
room by room
patiently
i'll wait for you there liek a stone
i'll wait for you there
alone

In all i read
till the day was gone
and i sat in regret
in all the things i've done for all that i've blessed and all that i've wronged in dreams till my death i will wonder on

In your house
i long to be
patiently
i'll wait for you there
like a stone
i'll wait for you there
alone
