

For the moment

Audiovent

We've made up our minds
This must be love
Cause everything's the way it should be
As far as we can see
But do we know the difference between
The words love and routine
Are we sure the choices we made
Are the right ones
For the moment
We pretend to know what love is
And as life goes on
We will question was it really love at all
Or is this all in our heads
Are we confusing love
With a simple state of lust
If so, when will we know
For the moment
We pretend to know what love is
And as life goes on
We will question was it really love at all
And after all is said and done
Will we realize that
We were no more than something to learn from
And after all is said and done
Will we realize that
We were no more than something to learn from
For the moment I think we're perfect
For the moment I think it's all complete
For the moment I think I'm in love with you
For the moment
We pretend to know what love is
And as life goes on
We will question was it really love at all
After all
For the moment
We will pretend to know what love is
And as life goes on
We will question was there any love at all
