

Candystore

Audrey Horne

The clue to understand how to survive a broken heart is to find a substitute, something that reduces one feeling with another, preferably a more joyful one, your own personal remedy.

Now most of these comes with prescriptions and can easily be bought at your local drugstore, but however, there are alternatives: like credit cards, cigarettes, liquor and TV.

Candystore, floatin' round in a dream
Candystore, out shoppin' medicine

If you're gonna choose your poison, choose well. I personally highly recommend champagne, Lady Lucks own blood and sweat. It gives me a nice buzz & a good company.

I learned this trick from a princesse and by lookin' at the alternatives, it seems quite tempting & if not, hmm... well, there's always ducttape.

I make friends with disaster
I make friends with insane
I've got a headache and I need a remedy!

Candystore, floatin' round in a dream
Candystore, out shoppin' medicine

If my buzz wears out, I'll always find another one
If it goes away, I'll always find my way back home
Pull the curtains I will sip champagne here on my own
When the crowd has gone you'll see that I am not alone

Candystore, floatin' round in a dream
Candystore, out shoppin' medicine

Candystore, floatin' round in a dream
Candystore, out shoppin' medicine

Candystore ...