

Down Like Suicide

Audrey Horne

When it all comes down like suicide
You keep your eyes shut wide and your head's inside
Seems impossible to choose
Either way I'm gonna lose

And your life comes down like heavy rain
And you try your best to stay insane
There is nothing left to lose
Nothing left to choose

As your silver lines wearing thin with time
Rust is eating what is left to shine
Seems impossible, too cold
So hang on to your last rope
You keep your heart up close
And your soul on hold
Wait for the cure that was meant for you
As our intention ends
Now what you might think

When you try to hide what's deep inside
Know your friends have stepped aside
You try to hide what eats you from inside

Sing it for me now
Sing it out aloud, aloud
Don't you never gotta geta away alive
I guess that's all that you can do
To keep what's left of your pride

As your heart stopped beating and it broken too
You can rest and sure we did all we could
For the last board going down
We have that heart to stick around
We brought the paramedics and the oxygen
It took a lot to bring you back
Before your final escapade
Your last serenade

Sing it for me now
Sing it out aloud, aloud
Don't you never gotta geta away alive
I guess that's all that you can't do
To keep what's left of your pride
Take this rusty heart
I'll save another tear, a tear
Don't you ever gotta geta away alive
I guess that's all that you can do
To keep what's left of your pride
