

Monster

Audrey Horne

It doesn't matter where you want to be
This open road will take you anywhere
That's how you find a place called home

An empty space, a parking lot
I've traveled round just to get where I am
That's why I will always roam
That's why I roam
That's why I roam

When all the shit comes down
I'm all alone to love you like I do
I do now
When the world is closing in
And everyone around you seems gone
I'll be home
I'll be home

Your car's in park, mine's in overdrive
I'll stick around long enough to make you see
Just how safe it feels at home
I'll trade it all for rolling wheels
Set my mind on a place so far away
That's why I will always roam

When all the shit comes down
I'm all alone to love you like I do
I do now
When the world is closing in
And everyone around you seems gone
I'll be home
