

Reasons

Augustana

started out sweet as heaven told you i could give you all my loving and all the loving in the world couldn't ease your pain twenty five, stuck in motion working hard like an empty ocean all the money in the world couldn't ease my pain you have my reasons, lord i have mine don't call me baby, don't even try you have your freedom, lord i have mine don't call me baby, don't waste your time would have climbed the highest mountain would have held you deepest passions would have died in your arms with your name on my grave tell myself everyday is better close my eyes and forget the weather you can have a world of women but you'll never have me so you have your reasons, lord i have mine

don't call me baby, don't even try
you have your freedoms, lord i have mine
don't call me baby, don't waste your time

so you have your reasons, lord i have mine
don't call me baby, don't even try
you have your freedoms, lord i have mine
don't call me baby, don't waste your time