

Shadows Of Death

Aura Noir

See the jackals lurking under, the full moon's black shadow
The burning mind is fuelled, see the thick blinding fumes
Fallen under the gods of steel, see that death cast sorrow
The debris dropped upon the earth; know there is no hope for rebirth

Shadows of death
Take your last breath
Shadows of death

See the vultures soaring over, your crippled remains
Hear the echoes from the womb, the calls from the frozen womb
The misty perfect night, under all the cold stars
The death that takes all your soul, is blind to all woes

Shadows of death
Take your last breath
Shadows of death

Life slips away through the black night
Fluently towards the dark red night
The horror, the blur, the blinding fright
The gates are closed, blocking your sight

Limbs lie scattered, and death crawls
Visions of torture and terror
The shadow of death now ending this dream
What's left, the echoes of your screams
