

A Day to Remember

Authority Zero

Ten thousand feet above the world and I am living
I've been taken back by how real this can feel
Can't help myself but wonder is this a new beginning?
A catastrophic case, or possibly surreal
Sit back and wonder what the fuck have I been missing?
This burning passion seemed to pass right away
Caught up in caution, paves a way of disillusion
Taken back and back any day

So hold on, don't wait for tomorrow
You've come so far to piss this away
Don't hang your head in the drenches of sorrow
These are the words you only wish you could say

(Today!) This will be a day to remember
(Today!) And I'll live my life once again
We'll sit back and succumb surrender
This is a day to remember, now it's up to me

You're watching everything go unnoticed
Whats really happened, and how can this be?
Sometimes you meet the crushing face of hesitation
The bitter silence, cries out in your grade

I gazed down across an open valley of ominous wonder
Beyond my own ability of understanding
Forgoing the repercussions of the needed actions
For what lies ahead
Beyond the mountains and the perilous terrain
Frozen in that moment of time and awestricken in disbelief

So hold on, don't wait for tomorrow
You've come so far to piss this away
Don't hang your head in the drenches of sorrow
These are the words you only wish you could say

(Today!) This will be a day to remember
(Today!) And I'll live my life once again
We'll sit back and succumb surrender
This is a day to remember, now it's up to me

It's up to me!
It's up to me

Ten thousand feet above the world and I am living
I've been taken back by how real this can feel
Can't help myself but wonder is this a new beginning?
A catastrophic case, or possibly surreal
Ten thousand feet above the world and I am living
