

Break the Mold

Authority Zero

You are the one in the middle of the room
With your face to the ground, taking stepping stone abuse
With all that aside, and all eyes on you
You won't let them break you down so soon
Desensitized with the fire in your eyes
Tells the story of trials and wear in the pain
Lies in all that aside, and all eyes on you
You won't let them break you down so soon because

(You are the one) whose been living it
Break the mold, no you don't have to take it
(You are the one) whose been living it
Break the mold, no you don't have to take it

You wanted honesty, well I'm not sure you do
Seems your pretentious ways have finally got the best of you
And tell me how it is, I'll be sure to tell you not
And watch this all unravel slowly
Whirlwind of thoughts, well I'm a puppet on a string
That's been tangled again and worse than you've seen
Still with all that aside, and all eyes on you
You won't let them break you down so soon because

(You are the one) whose been living it
Break the mold, no you don't have to take it
(You are the one) whose been living it
Break the mold, no you don't have to take it

You shake and wallow
Be safe and swallow
Too late onto the next one
Time to press them out so
Fake through what's new just Can't wait to hear this
I was, well I was just passing the time
While you tried just to waste mine

You are the face of the new creation
You are the cast that's been pressed in gold
You are the chance, well it must be taken
Do not come down and you watch them fall
You are the face of the new creation
You are the cast that's been pressed in gold
You are the chance, well it must be taken
Do not come down and you watch them fall

(You are the one) whose been living it
Break the mold, no you don't have to take it
(You are the one) whose been living it
Break the mold, no you don't have to take it

(You are the one) You are the one
(You are the one) You are the one
(You are the one) You are the one
(You are the one) You are the one.
