

Can't Move On

Automatic Loveletter

You build a heart
That's strong
Walls to last long
Its paper mache

You think the Battle's won
No use for shields
And guns
You'll need them now
That the lump takes a
Home in your throat
With the words that
You're choking
As you try
To tell yourself its ok
Flying by time to gaze
But never face

Your stuck in the moment
When you thought you were rolling
But you cant move on
You feel like your able to love
Past the moment but you cant move
On asking why asking why
Why I can't move on

You can't go please stay
No don't stay go
I'm left I'm right
I'm black I'm white

You ride a carousel
Round and round till
The sickness grows inside

That lump takes a strangling hold
Squeezes tight till your cold and tears
Run dry and where you once were worm
Now is tattered and torn crumbles and fades

Your stuck in the moment when you thought
You were rolling but you cant move on you feel Like your able to love past the moment
But you cant move on asking why asking why
Why I can't move on

Incomplete
Stereotypical reaction
I can't get over over
Over you

This is how the story goes
Glory in the moment

You can't move on Cant move on

Cant move on

Oh I can't move on

Your stuck in the moment when you thought
You were rolling but you cant move on you
Feel like your able to love past the moment
But you cant move on asking why asking why
Why I can't move on
