

Parker

Automatic Loveletter

I was your fire once
You thought of me as your one true love
I got so mad
Said things that later I would regret and regret and regret
Holding onto my chest and pounding till it turns purple
A breaking bow and the sound of a scream muffled by pillows
So don't so long
And don't farewell
Hear me out now i've just begun to say

Parker
Do you remember
How i carried your heart
And i carried it far
And i know
That theres no one to blame
Its a sure given shame of my own
That you don't...
Remember

Sworn off blue lips
Kiss them warm
With love comes deep dark red
And paper cuts
From letters i re-write explaining how to fall in love
Well pictures inspire and songs never tire
And there's always clouds to float upon
Saving me best for last
Down for keeps up for grabs
We'll play stop and go
But it feels just like freeze tag
So ill see you right
Applaud and encore
Ill be braver just you wait here till i say

Parker
Do you remember
How i carried your heart
And i carried it far
And i know
That theres no one to blame
Its a sure shame of my own

I'm naked once so don't think twice
Hold on
Its hard enough to bite my shy
Hold on
Hold on Hold tight

Parker
Do you remember
How i carried your heart
And i carried it far
Parker
Do you remember
How i carried your heart

And i carried it far
And i know
Its a sure given shame of my own
Of my own
Of my own
Its a sure shame of my own
That you don't that you wont remember
