

Symphony Of Freaks

Automatic Loveletter

Where am I?
On a cat walk paved in dreams
I used to stand so far away
I promised truth dishonestly

Now I stand here naked
And shaking seeing finally that
All I ever needed you already had

From outer space, it all looks the same
You can't see just how pretty you are
I know it's hard to lower your guard
You're an angel in a different world
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hide and seek in a symphony of freaks

I grew up
Underneath the lampshade
Surrounded by the light
A jaded lullaby
And have flaws but I am good
And I admit that I am weak
Peel the lids back from my eyes
So I can finally see me

From outer space, it all looks the same
You can't see just how pretty you are
I know it's hard to lower your guard
You're an angel in a different world
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hide and seek in a symphony of freaks

I am honest when I'm safe
So I am trying my best
And I am trying my best
To not be so afraid

From outer space, it all looks the same
You can't see just how pretty you are
I know it's hard to lower your guard
You're an angel in a different world
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hide and seek
From outer space
It all looks the same
Can't you see just how pretty you are?
I know it's hard to lower your guard
You're an angel in a different world
So stand up singing,
If you can see through this hide and seek in a symphony of freaks, freaks
In a symphony of freaks, of freaks
