

Twisted And Turned

Autumn

A twist, a turn, been lost more than once too many already A hit and a run, kicked in too late to be kicked to the curb again regardless of the consequences

You have had me
seen me falter, felt me shiver
You have had me
right where you wanted me

You have twisted and turned my life upside down (and right side up!), right when all I remained was a footprint in melting snow
You have seen me slowly disappearing and yet, here I still remain for all to see yet I've still not had it Doesn't it make you wonder how exactly you've been playing me?

You have had me
seen me falter, felt me shiver
You think you have had me
right where you wanted me

It turns out
You have had me
seen me falter, felt me shiver
You have had me
right where I wanted me