

Beneath these leaves
There is something calling
Preserved from the light
In its chambers to hide

Invite me in, Nature's hymn
Now greet this night
The coming of the queen
Arise, reveal your might

A night-time divine
These flies are all a part of me
At daybreak I die
Again...

Between these trees
Here is something crawling
Forever passing by, moving closer
Serving time... again

Night we praise, behold our God's embrace
Into the mist we dance
Eternal charms commence
Into the night we praise
Behold our God's embrace
Into the mist we dance
Eternal charms

Black mountain rise
Midwinter's nights
Feed the fires
