Majesty

Ava Inferi

Beneath these leaves
There is something calling
Preserved from the light
In its chambers to hide

Invite me in, Nature's hymn Now greet this night The coming of the queen Arise, reveal your might

A night-time divine
These flies are all a part of me
At daybreak I die
Again...

Between these trees Here is something crawling Forever passing by, moving closer Serving time... again

Night we praise, behold our God's embrace
Into the mist we dance
Eternal charms commence
Into the night we praise
Behold our God's embrace
Into the mist we dance
Eternal charms

Black mountain rise Midwinter's nights Feed the fires
