Simple Song

Going over in my head What seems like everything Remembering commitments That nowadays just blend

I don't know where im going And i don't think that i care I had my taste wound up misplaced Bounced off those troubles clear

Did I? Trip myself up again? Did I? See more than you did? (2x)

Decisions made without reguard, returning as regret I knew they could but thought they would Come crashing with success They know nothing about me and i really doubt they care But that's alright cause by myself I do fine anywhere

Did I? Trip myself up again? Did I? See more than you did? (2x)

It seems like i shouldn't have pushed it Hid myself and lost focus for a change Shouldn't have made myself committed I got to know that one by now I'm better off without

Going over in my head What seems like everything Remembering commitments That nowadays just blend

I don't know where im going And i don't think that i care I had my taste wound up misplaced Bounced off those troubles clear

Did I? Trip myself up again? Did I? See more than you did? (2x)

It seems like i shouldn't have pushed it Hid myself and lost focus for a change Shouldn't have made myself committed I got to know that one by now I'm better off without (2x)
