

California

Avalon

I am a stone stuck here in the ground
Holding onto nothing, why?
Is comfortable uncomfortable right now?
I was made for more

California, far from me, across the desert to the sea
A million miles away to somewhere I don't know
Lift my feet from where I stand down the street to foreign land
Anywhere You lead me I will go

Still, before You now but I'm not standing still Move me now according to Your will, I am ready for

California, far from me, across the desert to the sea
A million miles away to somewhere I don't know
Lift my feet from where I stand down the street to foreign land
Anywhere You lead me I will go

I will trust in You wherever I am found
Send me somewhere, Lord

California, far from me, across the desert to the sea
A million miles away to somewhere I don't know
Lift my feet from where I stand down the street to foreign land
Anywhere You lead me I will go

California, oh send me
California
