Shelter From The Rain

Avantasia

Like a wheel I keep on turning Straight ahead It's got me burning the melody, the dignity Something is speaking to me

Night is cold and my soul is battered Not afraid for the first time now that I realize We coincide I'll never belong to the tribe

And my soul is calling the truth this ship of fools

Been dying for a sign
When faith has been on the line
When you find your love on wasted grounds
You're taking to the sound
it's shelter from the rain

No return from the way I've chosen Cast away chasing rainbows Condemn the lie How could I Make up believe I am blind

We create by intuition
Calling fate
The dark of fate is in your soul
Feeling cross out
Carry on over the cry
All that's left is a sun
Giving shelter from the rain then

Been dying for a sign
When faith has been on the line
When you find your love on wasted grounds
You're taking to the sound
it's shelter from the rain

It's a dark and stormy night
Ain't it funny what it takes to read the signs
But I am always there
I am the footprints to your right
Man overlooks when riding high
Young and blind

In your darkest lonely night
Hear the voice to take you higher
Take you higher
As you stumble trough the ruins
Let the spirit take you higher
And the song

Oh, and the song I can hear a song

Dying for a sign
When faith has been on the line
When you find your love on wasted grounds

You're taking to the sound it's shelter from the rain

Dying for a sign
When faith has been on the line
When you find your love on wasted grounds
You're taking to the sound
it's shelter from the rain
