

The Looking Glass

Avantasia

Drawn by the sound
Of that wild raving pound
No one has told me
I gotta know
All about hell and below
They never told me

The quest for nexus
In your life
And for all that's beyond...

When I gaze at the man
Who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees

Then I'm asking for more
And the more that I wanna know
I know what I'll never know

From far away
From the state of decay
You've come to wisdom
Many've been led
Into madness instead
Toll of my kingdom

The quest for nexus
Has brought many
Man of genius to insanity...

When I gaze at the man
Who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees

Then you're asking for more
And the more that you wanna know
You know what you'll never know

As long as you long for the whole
You can't get a part of at all
How proud would the buildings of Rome
Look without all single stones

When I gaze at the man
Who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees

Then I'm asking for more
And the more that I wanna know
I know what I'll never know

When I gaze at the man
Who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass

When I ask what he sees

Then I'm asking for more
And the more that I wanna know

When I gaze at the man
Who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees

Then I'm asking for more
And the more that I wanna know

When I gaze at the man
Who is gazing at me
When I stare into the looking glass
When I ask what he sees

Then I'm asking for more
And the more that I wanna know
