

God Damn

Avenged Sevenfold

Hey - can't you see we're tripping on the wire
Waltzing through the candy land of our desires.
Press the magic button and behold the world you crave
But where's the fun in freedom when it renders you a slave?

Pledge allegiance, no flag, god nation, goddamned
The devil dances with the scorned
And how the fire keeps us warm

Hey - it goes beyond big brother in the sky
Beyond the threat of martial law, no Horus eye
No one came to cuff you they just handed you the chains.
Blind follow the blind and now the one-eyed man is king

Pledge allegiance, no flag, god nation, goddamned
The devil dances with the scorned
And how the fire keeps us warm
Tunnel vision, no man, damn nation, god damn
Can't see the forest for the trees
Can't heal the wound before we bleed

No form of payment, no pot of gold, will satisfy the debt of what he's owed.
Spilling from the houses in a trance the children lined up on the road.
Cursing at the piper as he lured your kids away and led them to the river for what was their final day.
No need for convincing on his pipe he played a song to fool them all.
Fooled them all.

Pledge allegiance, no flag, god nation, goddamned
The devil dances with the scorned
And how the fire keeps us
Tunnel Vision, no man, damn nation, god damn
Can't see the forest for the trees
Can't heal the wound before we bleed
