Lost

Avenged Sevenfold

Centuries passed and still the same War in our blood, some things never change Fighting for land and personal gain Better your life, justify your pain The end is knocking The end is knocking

We've all been lost for most of this life (Lost for most of this life)
Everywhere we turn more hatred surrounds us
And I know that most of us just ain't right
(Most of us just ain't right)
Following the wrong steps, being led by pride

How many lives will we take
How many hearts destined to break
Nowhere to run, can't escape
Full of ourselves, tied to our fate
The end is knocking
The end is knocking, yeah

We've all been lost for most of this life (Lost for most of this life)
Everywhere we turn more hatred surrounds us
And I know that most of us just ain't right
(Most of us just ain't right)
Following the wrong steps, being led by pride

With peace of mind so hard to find We're dwelling on the drastic signs Another way to numb our mind And as you close your eyes tonight And pray for a better life You'll see it flying helplessly away

We've all been lost for most of this life (Lost for most of this life)
Everywhere we turn more hatred surrounds us
And I know that most of us just ain't right
(Most of us just ain't right)
Following the wrong steps, being led by pride

(We've all been lost for most of this life Everywhere we turn more hatred surrounds us And I know that most of us just ain't right Following the wrong steps, being led by pride

We've all been lost for most of this life Everywhere we turn more hatred surrounds us And I know that most of us just ain't right Following the wrong steps, being led by pride)
