

Stand

Avery Watts

I'm standing at the edge of space and time
Deciding if my being alive is a crime
And if I jump and sail out into the abyss
How much will I really miss?

I'm inching closer, closer to my fate
Lacking a back up plan or escape
I'm just about to finally go and move ahead
When a voice calls out to me
Here's what it said:

STAND

Every woman and man
This is a call for all to rise up and stand
STAND

Every woman and man
Raise up your voice and say that I can
STAND

Every woman and man
This is a call for all to rise up and
All rise up and say...
I CAN

Get back up on your feet
You're much too strong to quit on me
Now dry your eyes and brace your back
Prepare for warfare
Here comes the attack

You're nearly there so don't you stop
Making your very own way to the top
And when you see your victory
Together we will be
We're now free

Stand
Everybody now:
I CAN
