

Mirrors

Aviators

Sever the ties that hold you down
Spread out your wings and leave the ground
Take off your regrets
We aren't the rejects
This is revolution now
We are fighting for the truth
(To fight the lies within the shadows)
Warriors with everything to prove (To see a new tomorrow)

Don't look there's faces looking back
An enemy I can't attack
I'm held a hostage by these eyes
Familiar faces I deny
One face regret, the other pain
Two eyes in my past stare with shame
In my reflection I see fear
So I'm smashing through these mirrors
I won't let my past hold me on the ground
So let's break this maze of mirrors down down down

We are the walls come crashing down
We are the throne and we're the crown
Don't be a sidekick
You're gonna like this
Watch all the darkness hit the ground
If we have the strength to believe (We can see better days to come)
From our reflections we'll break free
(Let two sides become just one)

Don't look there's faces looking back
An enemy I can't attack
I'm held a hostage by these eyes
Familiar faces I deny
One face regret, the other pain
Two eyes in my past stare with shame
In my reflection I see fear
So I'm smashing through these mirrors
I won't let my past hold me on the ground
So let's break this maze of mirrors down down down

We won't be held back by the image our pasts
We'll push forward by the only thing that lasts
Feels like these shards are cutting deep
This battle's breaking all of me
Feels like a battle against time
This war is festering inside
We can move past this struggle here
It's time to conquer our own fears
And break free of our mirrors

Don't look there's faces looking back
An enemy I can't attack
I'm held a hostage by these eyes
Familiar faces I deny
One face regret, the other pain

Two eyes in my past stare with shame
In my reflection I see fear
So I'm smashing through these mirrors
I won't let my past hold me on the ground
So let's break this maze of mirrors down down down
down down down...down down down
