

Welcome to Paradise

Aviators

Where will you be when walls give way
When it's crashing down, and falls away
A wishful thought won't take you far
When hell on earth is where you are
Win or lose you pay the price someday

Welcome to paradise
For thieves and kings alike
The wasteland tolls
Our mortal souls tonight
Game on, it's time to shine
Our lives are on the line
In ruins we strive
We'll never thrive
Without the will to survive

It's a brutal curse to call this home
Where the good men die and evil roams
A thousands lives claimed by this land
The passing cleanse, the fall of man
Do or die, we fight to survive

Welcome to paradise
For thieves and kings alike
The wasteland tolls
Our mortal souls tonight
Game on, it's time to shine
Our lives are on the line
In ruins we strive
We'll never thrive
Without the will to survive

Where will you be when we rise again
When our enemies will meet their end
It's a whisper turned a battle cry
We're still here 'cuz we refuse to die

Welcome to paradise
For thieves and kings alike
The wasteland tolls
Our mortal souls tonight
Game on, it's time to shine
Our lives are on the line
In ruins we strive
We'll never thrive
Without the will to survive

Welcome to paradise
