The wall has fallen down tonight I can't believe this dream

Tears of joy - everywhere

We celebrate this day

I hope we'll always be free
I pray on my knees

Paper ships sailing
Just as a sign
To show the world now
There's no borderline

Ships are sailing 'cross the water All the white lights shining bright Ships are sailing 'cross the water Burning candles in the night

Dance, dance and we dance around On both banks of the stream We are all together now Now, now, now

Now the wall is broken Will all dreams come true? We feel the freedom We know what we have to do

Ships are sailing 'cross the water All the white lights shining bright Ships are sailing 'cross the water Burning candles in the night

Our lights expel the darkness Sailing into the night Together we are fearless Our eyes are open wide

Ships are sailing 'cross the water All the white lights shining bright Ships are sailing 'cross the water Burning candles in the night
