

The Uncertainty Principle

Ayreon

His mind took flight
And his eyes
Have lost their light

All we have to go on Is a note

They changed the world
Last night
Working together
Side by side

His father is
The only one who knows

You haven't been told
That was his mother on the phone
There was a tragedy last night

His father can't have been here
It had to be a ghostly dream
For at the fall of day
He took his life!
