

Through the Wormhole

Ayreon

As we continue on our journey, we dive into a black hole -- a spiraling wormhole.

As it sucks us in, time slows and images become distorted.

Reality itself twists and bends.

We leave the galaxy where our journey began, headed for the unknown.

Where will it take us?

[Fabio Leone, Lana Lane]

Hold on tight, we've reached the gate that leads us to the mystic zone

What a sight! I cannot wait to cross the bridge to the unknown

Defy the laws of relativity, gravity will be our guide

Surrender to the sea of energy that drives us to the other side

Faster than light, we're traveling time through the wormhole

Out of the night and into a vortex of fire

Time slips away as we plunge into unknown dimensions

A brilliant display, quenching my deepest desires

Will it take us where we want to be?

Will it show us what we want to see?

Through the wormhole

We're crashing down to our goal that lies beyond this cosmic gate

Spinning round this spiral hole towards a cold and lonely fate

Faster than light, we're traveling time through the wormhole

Out of the night and into a vortex of fire

Time slips away as we plunge into unknown dimensions

A brilliant display, quenching my deepest desires

Will it take us where we want to be?

Will it show us what we want to see?

Hold on tight, we've reached the gate that leads us to the mystic zone

What a sight! I cannot wait to cross the bridge to the unknown

Faster than light, we're traveling time through the wormhole

Out of the night and into a vortex of fire

Time slips away as we plunge into unknown dimensions

A brilliant display, quenching my deepest desires

Will it take us where we want to be?

Will it show us what we want to see?
