

Prisoner

Azrael

I break the chains who catch me now I can hide I destroy my bad habits who want destroy my mind tell me, what I am? and tell me -never looking back in my dreams I repeat the words what now you hear

I'll be your prisoner and you'll be mine
Prisoner!
for seven years I dwelt in the palace of the exile now I have to come again...
To my hometown if they say I never loved you you know they are a liar come on, take by the hand follow me across the sea this is the beginning of a new life our past terror, our death in life peace is better for me, a lot of things are better for me give me all I needed
I can't loose this train
