

Dragonfly

Azure Ray

Immovable tower come crashing down
An uncertain hour in this little town
Will you step to the edge
Move on in the dark

Let a new man have your old heart
You could spend your whole life
Putting blocks back in place
With each trembling hand

Covering up the face
That seeks high places
Greedy dragonfly
So show a new man your old smile

Indomitable portrait
That hangs in your mind
Waiting to be unveiled
In your darkest time

So step to the edge
Move on in the dark
Let a new man have your old heart
Let a new man have your old heart
