

Red Balloon

Azure Ray

Your eyes, like mine, took me by surprise like summer rain
Knocked down, heart pounds, but my head keeps spinning

I'll give all the love I've been saving up
I'll hold the red balloon as I fall deeper with you
You've got to know you bring joy to everything
Within the weeping willow tree

Stand proud, I'm out, out of this tired and lonely game
First time in my life I see my fate unfolding
I'll give all the love I've been saving up
I'll hold the red balloon as I fall deeper with you
You've got to know you bring joy to everything
Within the weeping willow tree

Your light it came to us without a warning
You can't control the steady pace of morning

I'll give all the love I've been saving up
I'll hold the red balloon as I fall deeper with you
You've got to know you bring joy to everything
Within the weeping willow tree
