No many hearts you have broken
No many how many tears you've made fall
I still love you
Baby, I'm waiting for your call

No many how many times you haved left me And you said you never really cared I still love you
I'm just waiting for your call

Remember, dear, the first time you left me I couldn't said a thing to make you stay But believe me dear, I never talk about it I just pray, pray you come back home, home to me one day

No matter how long I hung outside

No matter how many times I've been dropped

Baby I still love you

And I'm just waiting, baby I'm waiting for your call

Remember dear the first time you left
I couln't say a thing to make you stay
But believe me dear, I never talk about it
I just pray that you, I pray that you come home, come home one day

No many how long ...

No many times I've been dropped

Baby I still love you

I'm just waiting, baby i'm waiting for your call
