

I Get Enthused

B.J. Thomas

If I saw a woman that looked a lot like you
And if I thought this woman
Could take the place of you, I'd get enthused
Oh but there's not another you

If she had eyes like you do and she knew how to smile
And if I thought the feeling
Could ever be like ours, I'd get enthused
Oh but there's not another you

I'm staring loneliness face to face
There's no one around
No one around that can take your place
Hmm, hmm

If I thought this woman could make me feel that fine
I'd wrap me up in her love
And get you off my mind, I'd get enthused
Oh but there's not another you

I'd get enthused
Oh but there's not another you
Ohh, ohh, ohh, ohh, ohh
Ohh, ohh, ohh, ohh, ohh
I'd get enthused
