

Just a Sign

B.o.B

Looking at the world through my rearview
Searching for an answer up high
Or is it all wasted time?
Everything is crumbling around me
Feels like the ending of the times
Or is it all just a sign?

Uh, I dozed off from my notebook
Ever since, never woke up
Hey, I've been travelling for lifetimes
Still I got many miles 'fore it's over
Yeah, I kept on hunting like I'm supposed to
But everything in the world ain't kosher
See it's crazy when your friends turn to strangers
But then strangers running up like they know you
And the further away from reality I go
I can feel the truth getting closer
But hey, it's a path that we all on,
If you in the fast lane or the slow one
And you might break down on the shoulder
You just gotta know who to call for the tow-truck
I guess we all gotta exit to the next boulevard where the roads are

Looking at the world through my rearview
Searching for an answer up high
But is it all wasted time?
Simulated, automated break throughs
Everything appears to be fine
Or are we all digitized?
Everything is crumbling around me
Feels like the ending of the times
Or is it all just a sign?

Yeah, sometimes, sometimes I wonder
If what I'm seeing in front of me, is even real.
Yeah, go roll up some of that killa
We call this slasher smoking,
Gone off that Michael Myers
I can barely keep my lashes open
6 shots of the rum I'm done
Thinking about my partners death, I'm angry
In a flash he was gone
Man how can that day not rearrange me
All of my days, they clouded
All of my nights, they rowdy
He told me Tre keep suckers in the rib
So I'm smashin proudly
Is it all in my head?
Am I just wasting time?
All of my rearview mirror
Looking for answers 'bout to lose my mind

Looking at the world through my rearview
Searching for an answer up high
But is it all wasted time?
Simulated automated breakthroughs
Everything appears to be fine

Or are we all digitized?
They say you only get one life time
Then it's gone in a blink of an eye
Or is it all just in my mind?
Everything is crumbling around me
Feels like the ending of the times
Or is it all just a sign?

I saw the lights dancing up so high
I wonder is it really a sign?
Or just imagination, imagination
As Golden Rivers flooded off the sky
Pouring from the sands of time
Congratulations, we finally made it
