

You Will Always Love Me

Babybird

It's so wide, it's so tall
I'm a ghost coming through your wall

You will always be mine
you will always love me
You will always be mine
you will never be free

Little birds between my ears take away your brain Drop it through my empty eyes please come back again

You will always be here you won't go away
I will always love you
you will never be free

You will always be young
I will always be old
As the the sun warms me up your body grows cold

You will always be mine
you will always love me
You will always be mine
you will never be free

You will always be mine
you will always love me
You will always be mine
you will never be free

It's so wide, it's so tall
I'm a ghost coming through your wall

You will always be mine
you will always love me
I will always be here you will never be lonely
