I'd Rather Be Broke

Baby, I've been thinking Been in this thing too long I wanna be through I'm sick and tired of you

And lately I've been thinking Just because your money's strong Don't mean you can do The things that you do

Just so you know, I did everything In case you don't, let me tell you this I'm tired of spending all my time And waiting on your dime And get lovin' half the time I'd rather be broke than with you, you, you I'd rather be broke than with you, you, you

Baby, I've been thinking How you've treated me so wrong I put up with you And that ain't gon do

And, baby, I've been thinking That I'm better off alone It's long overdue I won't be the fool

Just so you know, I did everything In case you don't, let me tell you this I'm tired of spending all my time And waiting on your dime And get lovin' half the time I'd rather be broke than with you, you, you I'd rather be broke than with you, you, you

I gave you chances Too many chances But you went too far You went and broke my heart

I'd rather be broke than with you, you, you I gave you chances Too many chances But you went too far You went and broke my heart
