

U Should Know

Babyface

On the first day I saw you
I knew I would fall in love with you
And every since I fell for you
I never loved another, and that's the truth
In my heart and in my arms is where you belong
I won't let you fall, baby

You should know
I think you are incredible
Baby you're so beautiful simply irresistible
You should know there's not a day or night
That I don't think of you
I'm in love with everything that you do

Just the very thought of you
Makes my head spin, no lie, it's true
Now I understand what God can do
Look at what he did in the making of you
In my arms and in my heart is where you belong
I won't let you fall

Please know it's all about you
I'll sacrifice for you
God knows I worship you
Baby you should know, I love your dirty draws
Girl I would die for you without any reservation
I speak the truth to you
It ain't just conversation
You're the beginning and the ending of my day
All that's in between everything, baby
