

Farmer's Daughter

Babysambles

You've been travelling on that dusty road
Come break some bread with me!
With your wife and donkey on a dusty road
Now break some bread with me!
Now come and rest your head with me!
When asked to choose between this and that
Hmmm, I'll take the former
I'll take the former every time!
I'll take the former every time!

He knows where his daughter goes
It's the way it feels when sunlight hits the snow
Sunlight hits the snow.

When asked to choose between this and that
Me, I take the former
I take the farmer every time
I take the former every time!

He knows where his daughter goes
It's the way it feels, when sunlight hits the snow
When sunlight hits the snow

Cause the farmer knows where his daughter goes
It's the way it feels when sunlight hits the snow
When sunlight hits the snow.
