Siberia

Backstreet Boys

When you come back I won't be here She said and gently pulled me near If you want to talk you can call And no it's not your fault

I just smiled and said let go of me But there's something that I've just gotta know Did someone else steal my part? She said it's not my fault

Then my heart did time in Siberia Was waiting for the lie to come true 'Cause it's all so dark and mysterious When the one you want doesn't want you too

I was drifted in between Like I was on the outside looking in, yeah yeah In my dreams you are still here Like you've always been

Oh yeah, my heart did time in Siberia Was waiting for the lie to come true 'Cause it's all so dark and mysterious When the one you want doesn't want you too

I gave myself away completely But you just couldn't see me Though I was sleeping in your bed 'Cause someone else was on your mind In your head

When I came back she wasn't there Just a note left on the stairs If you want to talk give me a call

My heart did time in Siberia Was waiting for the lie to come true 'Cause it's all so dark and mysterious When the one you want doesn't want you too When the one that you want doesn't want you

My heart did time in Siberia Was waiting for the lie to come true 'Cause it's all so dark and mysterious When the one you want doesn't want you too

Siberia, Siberia When the one you want doesn't want you too
