

Nomadic

Backyard Babies

I guess it's time to make it easier on ourselves
Is it time to let our feeling have their ways?
I know this time I won't do anything at all
This time I'll let the fire burn out of control

I get a feeling I can make it on my own
Like it's meant to be my kingdom and my throne
But I can only make it last a little more
If I'd only let that fire burn out of control

So c'mon now
Nomadic you, nomadic me. I'm walking on my knees
Nomadic you, nomadic me. A lot of things to see
I got a ticket for a nowhere ride,
Everyday I've been a bit outside
Nomadic you

We're so not related I'm so scared of heights
That's why I never learned to walk into the lights
I know it's time to say again you'll send me back
Now it's history, but the fire burned out of control

So c'mon now
Nomadic you, nomadic me. I'm walking on my knees
Nomadic you, nomadic me. A lot of things to see
I got a ticket for a nowhere ride,
Everyday I've been a bit outside
Nomadic you

Like if I was just nobody
Would I still be such a mess
If I would I'd never confess
And there's you with all your sorrows
All those tears in blackened eyes
You hide behind your fake disguise

So c'mon now
Nomadic you, nomadic me. I'm walking on my knees
Nomadic you, nomadic me. A lot of things to see
I got a ticket for a nowhere ride,
Everyday I've been a bit outside
Nomadic you

I'm walking on my knees
A lot of things to see
I got a ticket for a nowhere ride,
Everyday I've been a bit outside
Nomadic you
