

Magic in the Air

Badly Drawn Boy

We laughed so much the we cried all night
And you left your shoes in the tree with me
Ill wear them to your house tonight
Magic in the air tonight

Yes, I might just try her
How she made me feel
Today, today, today, feels right

We slept on leaves on my drive all night
And you gave me no restime
Nothing in this life for me tonight
But nothing ever seemed so bright

And if you should lose me
You will track me down again
Before the summer ends
Cause love is contagious, when its alright
Love is alright
