

Rain came down since the day we got home
For days and days it poured into the streams
Kill the beast of all our lost hope
Breaking down my walls and shaking all my dreams

Hear it echo real slow
Bouncing off of me to a land that I know
Waited some time for a sigh of relief
It's nice to have hope
Even when you can't believe
The world that I know never had a care for me

Wait around as we watch the time go
And build myself a new home, a new home
And I've been great these last few days
And oh my God, who gives a shit anyways

Hear it echo real slow
Bouncing off of me to a land that I know
Waited some time for a sigh of relief
It's nice to have hope
Even when you can't believe
The world that I know never had a care for me
