

Ready now
I had to clean myself off
Settle down
Make it out of this rut safely

I'll flee and think it's time to let go
Think I felt the safety in the heat
There's a calmness in the way I speak out
To just say, drop it
When all I think is, stop it
It's not worth the misery
I stay on the lake just like yesterday no more

Tear it down
Break down every wall
Cut it out
Find out where it went wrong

And it's not me in this head
Crippled with regret
I can say it was the last time
But I know it's not the last time
What does this all mean
I'm lost now somewhere in between
And I can say it was the last time
But I know it's not the last time
Your breathing gets shorter
Your hands are getting cold
But you can't die here
You're only nineteen years old

I tried to look into your eyes
The sky was to open
I tried to look in your eyes
But was blinded by the sun
So send me a sign
Through earthquakes and lightning
Lord, send me a sign
I can't be the only one
I don't belong
No, I don't belong here
No, I don't belong here
No, I don't belong here
