

Notice Me

Balance and Composure

This old game of who used who,
Disgraceful that you know my room.
And I can see the evil games you love to play,
Don't give a shit take all of me.
Left me in the open,
Cut me deep, cut me right.

Seeking out a confidence in me,
Can't see it, notice me.
Can't seem to wash you from my sheets,
Now you know where I lay my head.

I'm the spider in your room.
And I've got eight eyes all on you,
So stop pretending.

You don't mean the things you say,
Understand I see everything.
Mold me into shapes,
Use me up, suck me dry.

Tease me with your heart,
"I'll see you soon."

Seeking out a confidence in me,
Can't see it, notice me.
Can't seem to wash you from my sheets,
Now you know where I lay my head.

Seeking out a confidence in me,
Can't see it, notice me.
Can't seem to wash you from my sheets,
Now you know where I lay my head.

Got me scratching at your back door,
Won't you let me in?
Won't you let me in?

We both know what I came back for.
Won't you let me in?
Won't you let me in?
Oh God let me in.

Caught you looking out the window,
Dream of what could be,
Then suddenly,
Got this eerie little tingle..
Notice me,
Notice me,
Notice me.
