The sun will shine again I'm letting go and I sing Help me find the reason Make me see the light Wrap me up and drive me home Make it be all right Find me something good Find me something good, before I run away. Let be your reason Help me say goodbye Wrap me up and drive me home this is our last night Find me something good Find me something good, before I run away. The sun will shine again I'm letting go and I sing The sun will shine again So now I know and I sing to you. Let be your reason Help me say goodbye Wrap me up and drive me home this is our last night Find me something good Find me something good, before I run away. The sun will shine again

I'm letting go and I sing

The sun will shine again

So now I know and I sing to you.
