

Evil Penguin

Ballyhoo!

Somewhere in the midnight hour I lost my sanity
Stifled by the contracts and the crooked fantasy
Are we on the frontline of some evil penguins war
Hide your kids, they're standing at your door

Break away, break away, I won't take this anymore
Find a way to disobey, start taking back what's yours

They have got some nerve to speak on behalf of you and me
Can't justify their reasons with a shred of dignity.
And I feel like a puppet in the hands of the elite
They'll put on a sold-out show with their name on the marquee
I know that so many others see the way I see
What's it gonna take for them to speak out just like me

Break away, break away, I wont take this anymore
Find a way to disobey, start taking back what's yours
Pave the way, pave the way, I will never follow
I am not afraid to go to war

Break away, break away, I wont take this anymore
Take your venom nevermore

Break away, break away, I wont take this anymore
Find a way to disobey, start taking back what's your
Pave the way, pave the way, I will never follow
I am not afraid to go to war